[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 15

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE

Advance of Government Troops

VERSAILLES May 15 —Thirty thousand men are in Bois de Boulogne sheltered by trenches of the besiegers

Yesterday the insurgents attempted a sortie from Port Dauphin The head of the column was allowed to advance a little when suddenly twenty eight shells burst among them and the column was blown to atoms

Troops in trenches are only 100 meters from Vanvres which has not fired a shot in fourteen hours

Shells are fired from Meudon every minute The Viaduct at Auteuil has been shelled to pieces

The troops are in excellent spirits and anxious for fight

Thirty 10 inch howitzers are in readiness for street fighting on the entry of the army into the city

PARIS, May 14, A M —The Central Committee has ordered a general search which is progressing, for arms and persons inimical to the Government of the Commune

Gerussett, Federal Minister of Foreign Affairs has issued a protest against the declaration of Thiers, that the Commune has disregarded the provisions of the convention of Geneva in regard to explosive bullets, and reports that the Versaillists are themselves guilty of the same infraction

Commune accounts say the attempt of the Versailles forces to throw a bridge over the Seine has been repulsed

The Versaillists continue to gain ground in the direction of Maillot Gate

VERSAILLES May 14 —The is nothing new within the line of military operations All was quiet last night

Many batteries are ready to open fire on the center of Paris

The circular of Thiers says the troops have undertaken to open trenches in Bois de Boulogne

Communication between Forts Montrouge and Vanvres is cut

The Lyceum of the Prince Imperial, in the village of Vanvres, is occupied

Operations are advancing at all points for the deliverance of Paris

The Versailles forces have occupied Fort Vanvres The entire garrison escaped by a subterranean passage to Montrouge Fifty guns eight monitors and a few prisoners were captured

LONDON, May 14 —A Paris dispatch says Auber is dead

Dispatch from St Petersburg

ST PETERSBURG May 14 —Great preparations are making for war against Khiva the population of which has commenced war against Russia

EASTERN STATES.

A Challenge for a Prize Fight

NEW YORK May 14 —Coburn challenges Mace to fight for ten thousand dollars to morrow or Tuesday within fifty miles of this city

CALIFORNIA

San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15 The Americus Club leaves for Stockton with their special car on Wednesday next for the Calaveras big trees and Yosemite

Dr George Redmuller one of the most prominent physicians of the city died last night from injuries received by being thrown from a buggy two weeks since aged 40 a native of Germany He leaves a family

Wm Fay, of Eureka Nevada who came here for medical assistance died suddenly in a room at Alta Lodgings, on Sacramento street, yesterday

The Congress Hall Keno establishment did no re-open last night the police being too numerous in the vicinity

The opposition steamship Constantine is announced to leave this port for Portland on Thursday next

More Election Frauds in Prospect

The New York Legislature at its recent session so amended the registry law as to give every facility possible for illegal voting The New York Times says of this measure

This bill is designed to facilitate and perpetuate that corruption of the source of political power through which the oligarchy that is now established over us has attained to its present position The bill extends the time in which voters may register up to the Saturday night preceding the day of election—thus leaving only one working day in which frauds upon the registry can be detected The law as passed a year ago under a solemn compact between the Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature, which has now been shamefully violated, provided that the registry of voters should cease a full week prior to the election Under this law the Republicans were enabled last fall to ferret out over 15,000 cases of fraudulent registry All these men were spotted and their votes kept out of the ballot box Had it not been for the week s time thus afforded to detect the repeaters the Democratic majority would have been from 15 000 to 20 000 greater than it was But under the Registry law as amended it will be impossible to detect and stop the frauds upon the ballot box for lack of time, and this is the reason why the law was amended The Ring dare not submit to an honest election in this city notwithstanding they have all the money the power and the patronage of the city in their hands Hence the necessity of reopening the door to wholesale frauds upon the ballot As the law stands now they can carry any election they please and by any majority they please. What votes they can't get by repeating they can make up by false counting All the inspectors and canvassers of election were elected in the interest of the Ring or appointed directly by Mayor Hall, and the amended Registry gives him the additional power to appoint the poll clerks It also permits a person who has not registered at all to vote on election day by simply making his unsupported affidavit, before any notary or before any Ring inspector of election that it was not possible or convenient for him to register All of the safeguards of the Registry law are broken down by the amendments and the law might as well have been repealed altogether The only hope remaining for honest voters is that a proper and stringent Registry law will be enacted by the next Congress Indeed the citizens of New York may well ask in view of the recent legislation at Albany and the position in which it has left the city whether Congress is not constitutionally bound to give us something more than a Registry law—whether in fact it is not under obligation to restore to us a Republican form of government?

THE NUMBER OF DISFRANCHISED —George A Townsend furnishes to the Chicago Tribune some interesting facts under this head He estimates the number of disfranchised persons at the South to be now 160 000 About 15 000 have had their disabilities removed by Act of Congress and 10 000 have died Of the disfranchised 20 000 reside in Virginia and North Carolina about 18 000 in Georgia, Alabama 15 000 and so on The only towns in the South which have made much progress since the war are Richmond and Atlanta Some of the leading Confederates are in poverty Hunter owns 3 000 acres of land but is overwhelmed with debt Mason who died recently had only just enough to keep him from actual want Seddon the ex Secretary of War practices law for a living It is remarkable that there is no man in Virginia who is estimated to be worth more than $150,000 Most of the great fortunes melted away during the war while many of the leaders on the Confederate side having lost all, have not been able since to acquire a competence

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE

The Situation Without Special Change

LONDON May 15 —A 7 per dispatch from Paris says M Pyatt openly declares the fall of the Commune imminent

The National Guards decline to march and talk of opening the gates to the Versaillists Dombrowski s orders are not obeyed

The Versaillists have been driven back to Longchamps from positions in Bois de Bologne

It is reported that two Versailles battalions were decimated Friday night

PARIS May 15 —M Beslay, called the father of the Commune retires from membership of that body because the residence of Thiers has been spoiled La Crelia is now in command of the ... Vanvres Corp commanders hereafter will command arrondissements and be responsible for their defense

VERSAILLES, May 15 —Sixty cannon were found in Fort Vanvres on its occupation by the Versaillists The battery at Montretout continues to cannonade insurgents works and is demolishing the ... of Paris and protection approaches of Government troops.

PARIS May 14 —Yesterday Dombrowski issued orders that all officers refusing to obey the commands of their superiors should be shot

Yesterday a procession of women marched through the streets to the Hotel de Ville where they demanded arms A proclamation was issued for the organization of battalions of women immediately, for the purpose of stimulating the courage of the men It is ordered that all cowardly males shall be led to prison by women The women battalions are to march against the Versaillists

The bombardment is very violent Shells are falling within the city in large numbers, and a heavy attack from the Versaillists is expected

It is said that seven men and a number of young women bearing an ambulance with the red cross were refused quarter by the sixth regiment who shot five of them

The Committee on War has been replaced in consequence of difficulties with the Central Committee

The batteries at Montretout are firing on Paris

Rossel is reported to be in Belgium

Six government gunboats arrived at Sevres

The troops in the Bois de Bologne are advancing An entry into the city is imminent

Further Particulars of the Treaty of Peace

LONDON May 15 —A dispatch from Berlin gives some additional particulars of the treaty of peace just negotiated at Frankfort The French are to restore all ships captured during the war or to refund their value in cases where the vessels have been sold The navigation treaty of 1862 is to be maintained All duties to be abolished in Alsace after six months

Petition for the Pope

VIENNA May 14 —Twenty eight Archbishops and Bishops of the Catholic church have addressed a petition to the Emperor of Austria on the Roman question In the petition the Emperor is requested to inform the King of Italy that the independence of the Pope is necessary to the Catholic church and to demand that Rome and suitable territory be immediately returned to the Pope The petitioners also say it is the duty of all other Catholic powers and of Protestant powers also to make a similar demand.

WASHINGTON CITY

The Treaty with England

WASHINGTON, May 15 —While it is known that a majority of Senators are in favor of ratification of the treaty of Washington as a measure of peace, some of them will propose amendments to several provisions, which they consider not sufficiently plain and which without modifications may lead to dissatisfaction in the future One of the objections to the treaty is that the San Juan question is to be submitted to arbitration of the Emperor of Germany The recent report of his indisposition suggests that in the event of his death his son Frederick William would succeed to the throne and thus take the place of his father as arbitrator Should the question not be settled during the present Emperor's life this arbitration is considered unfortunate in view of the fact of the Prince having married Victoria Adelaide, daughter of the Queen of England, might therefore not influenced in the determination of the question by his family connections.

The Senate refused to take up the resolution heretofore offered providing for reporting in confidence the debate on the treaty of Washington by official reporters of the Senate It is said the report is to be subject to future disposition by that body The objection against the resolution was that the debate would thereby be prolonged Senators might desire at some future time to see their speeches in print besides it was thought best to complete action on the treaty as soon as possible

A report prevailed this morning that the protocol had found its way in print This s regarded as unfortunate as not calculated to strengthen the treaty The select committee on privileges of the Senate in connection with the premature publication of the treaty, have summoned to appear before them among others the correspondents of the Tribune Herald and World and Assistant Secretary of State Davis

Mr Cameron reported the treaty with a favorable recommendation and made a few remarks followed by Morton in its support

CURRENT NOTES

Some Chinamen in the Berlin diggings in Australia have lately struck a nugget of gold weighing 1,717 ounces and worth $34 680

On the 8th instant at New York, the Government recovered $101 000, the full amount claimed from Charles Lilienthal, tobacconist, for making false returns of sales

By the defalcation of Geo Lawrence, Pension Agent at New York, neither the Government nor the pensioners lost a dollar, the amount being fully secured by reliable bonds

The Omaha Republican states that the Omaha and Southwestern Railroad Company is preparing to build a bridge over the Platte river which, when finished will be 2,850 feet long The work will be commenced in June next

The Cincinnati Gazette says 'When we reflect that the stripling who rebelled against the mother country s stamp act is now called upon to teach her to carry stamp taxes to the minute matter of lucifer matches we shall see that the world does move '

While workmen were tearing out a hotel in Cincinnati they found a packet concealed in the chimney It contained a fourpence bill, issued by order of the General Assembly at Hartford, on the 11th of October, 1777, and two shinplasters issued during the war of 1812, one for three cents and one for eighteen cents

A Washington dispatch of the 1st inst says There is no probability that the women of this District will vote by the next Presidential election if they depend on a decision of the Courts in their favor for the privilege The action is brought in the Circuit Court of the District which will adjourn before reaching the case It cannot then be decided until the October term but no matter what the decision may be the case will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court which judging from the present condition of its docket will not be able to render an opinion in less than two or three years

There is trouble among Chicago editors A dispatch of the 6th inst says The Tribune of this city yesterday morning contained an editorial concerning newspaper advertising in Chicago in which it charges its cotemporaries and particularly the Times, with using improper and disreputable means to compete with it for advertising patronage The Times this noon notices the editorial in slightly personal manner, saying Horace White is the responsible editor of the Chicago Tribune that the editor of the Times has hitherto been led to believe Horace White to be a more decent person than he is esteemed to be by the generality of people, and has treated him as such in journalistic and personal relations, but the editor of the Times is impelled to acknowledge his error and is also impelled to denounce Horace White as a lying scoundrel and cowardly, dirty dog that the editor of the Times applies this language personally to Horace White, and posts it upon his infamous forehead with the adhesiveness of a sticking plaster

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 16, 1871.

A Comparison.

The two political parties of the country should be tried by their acts, and judged according to the results thereof. The Republican party controls the National Government; the Democratic party controls the city and State of New York. New York, by virtue of its wealth and population, is so great a State that the comparison we make of the results achieved by the two political parties is not so unequal as might be at first supposed. That State stands at the head of the American Union, and is an empire in itself. Now let us see what Republicans do where they have full power, and what Democrats do where their power is supreme.

Since Gen. Grant became President in March, 1869, the sum of $221,889,716 87 has been paid on the national debt, and the decrease in the monthly interest charge, on account of payments on the principal of the debt, amounts to $1,072,503 33. That is to say, we shall pay less interest, by this sum, on the national debt for the present month than we paid in March, 1869. In the meantime national taxes have been diminished by the sum of $83,000,000 per annum. Since Gen. Grant's inauguration the average reduction of the public debt has been nearly $10,000,000 per month, or fully $300,000 per day. In the meantime the credit of the nation has been vastly improved, our bonds have risen to par and currency has advanced from 72 to 91 cents. Such are some of the results of Republican rule; now let us see what the Democratic party has accomplished.

In 1866 the debt of the city of New York was $12,265,000. These figures were given by Mr. Hoffman, who was then Mayor. The Comptroller of the city now states that the debt is $32,057,000. Mark the difference between Republican and Democratic financial management! Within a short time the Republicans have largely reduced the national debt and national taxation with it. Democrats on the other hand have doubled the debt of the city of New York and have not reduced taxes at all. But this is not the full extent of the comparison. The Democratic managers have just put through the State Legislature a bill to enable them to issue additional bonds to the extent of $16,150,000, which will raise the aggregate debt of the city to within a fraction of $100,000,000. This debt is about twice as large in proportion to the population of the city as the national debt is in proportion to the population of the United States.

The State tax in New York is this year almost double what it ever was under Republican rule. And besides this, the party now in power has so mismanaged the State's revenues that there will be a deficiency of at least [illegible] by the close of the current year, which will be added to the debt of the State. The Republican members of the Legislature, in an address to the people of the State, have set forth these facts fully, and fortified them in such a manner that they cannot be questioned.

Is this comparison of the relative results of Republican and Democratic rule sufficiently strong in favor of the latter to induce the people to nationalize the New York system by giving the Democratic party control of the National Government?

A Useless Technicality.

A member of the British Parliament said a few days ago that Great Britain was not responsible for the depredations of the Alabama, and that the Government could not have detained her, because she was not armed when she left British waters.

This is not a fair or accurate statement. It is, indeed, literally true that she had no regular armament on board when she left British waters, but there could be no mistake as to her character and intentions. It was notorious that she was constructed so as to be used as a ship of war; that her build indicated that she was not intended to be used for the transportation of merchandise, and that in fact she was unfitted for that purpose. Her decks were prepared for the reception of guns, and it was evident to everybody that she was fitted out as a cruiser to prey on American commerce. Minister Adams repeatedly called the attention of the British authorities to these facts, and entreated them not to let her go; but they chose to shut their eyes to the facts. The vessel shipped a crew and all the men she wanted for a cruise, went to the Azores and took on her guns, for which she had been fully fitted and prepared, and began her piratical career. The British authorities do not pretend that they were ignorant of her character. Under these circumstances they cannot stand on the technicality that she was not armed when she left British waters. They knew the object for which she was constructed and the reason of her departure, and should have detained her. This the British Government now practically admits, by consenting to have the damages ascertained.

Germany and France.

The belief that Germany would not sympathize with a republican form of government in France, and that Bismarck would prefer the restoration of the dynasty, has not been sustained by the facts in the case. As expressive of the popular feeling in Germany on the subject, the following from the German Correspondent is as significant as it is true:

> The government, whatever it may be, that restores the reign of order and rehabilitates confidence will lay entire France under a deep debt of gratitude, and establish the best possible title to a new lease of power. There is no reason why that government should not be the republic. France has suffered enough from external foes and internal anarchy, without dividing against herself in new domestic quarrels. The best and speediest means of healing her wounds will be to revive her paralyzed industry, and secure for her a long period of unbroken peace.

Speaking of the Connecticut election, a Democratic contemporary says: "The Legislature may attempt to set aside the election, but we are strongly impressed with the belief that English will hold the office notwithstanding the proposed unauthorized interference." That is about as rich as anything we have seen since All Fools' Day. It is the constitutional duty of the Legislature in Connecticut, as in Oregon, to canvass the vote for Governor. In this case Democratic swindling was exposed and Jewell was declared elected. English would cut a fine figure, indeed, in attempting to "hold the office" after the Legislature, whose province it is to count the vote, has declared another man elected. But it is a Democratic habit always to count "gains," so our contemporary may be excused.

No material change is reported in the crop prospects of California. The latest Sacramento Union received does not estimate the crop at more than one-third an average,—thus confirming its estimate of some days ago. California will have little or no grain for export.

An Old Saw Re-Set.

The remark has come down to us from former generations that misery loves company. Whether the pedigree of this proverb reaches as far back as Homer, who originated, or at least first recorded, for the instruction of future ages such a valuable observation as, "It's a wise child that knows its own father," cannot now, perhaps unfortunately, be satisfactorily known. Be that as it may, this old saw about misery loving company is certainly of very respectable antiquity. But we are glad to know that California misery can find no company in Oregon.

To be somewhat plainer, some of our brethren of the California press appear to feel very much as did the man whose crop of potatoes, grown on the banks of a rapid stream, had just been carried away by a heavy thunder shower. He looked out on his desolate field and uttered the pious remark for his own consolation, that there was reason to be thankful for one thing, and that was that none of his neighbors had fared better. So the San Francisco Bulletin, in a recent article, alluding to the severe drought that has annihilated the expected fruits of agricultural industry in California, said that Oregon was no better off, as it was "drowned out!" And the Bulletin seemed to be much consoled with this observation.

We take it for granted that the world knows by this time that we have some rain in Oregon, and we generally have enough. We always have enough to make good crops, and thus insure to labor an adequate reward. And right here is where we have an immeasurable advantage over California. The press of that State affects to sneer at our climate, but we have invariably at this season of the year luxuriant fields and always good crops, while in California about every third year there is a partial or total failure, and farmers are impoverished. Just now our growing fields of grain and the lush and succulent grasses of our meadows contrast strikingly with the withered fields of California, which are as brown as stubble land at harvest home. And this indicates the difference between the climate of Oregon and that of California.

The Bulletin's article is mischievous and unworthy of a fair newspaper. Its apparent object is to prevent those who are discouraged with their prospects in California from coming to Oregon. The truth is that, so far from being "drowned out," there never was before a prospect for so large a crop in Oregon as we shall have this year. More acres of grain have been sown than in any former year, and the yield per acre will be fully as great as ever before. Last year the yield was greater in proportion to the area than in any other State of the Union. To substantiate this we need only refer to the report of the Agricultural Bureau at Washington.

Trimming.

Some folks may respect newspapers that trims; indeed, we often hear the London Times and New York Herald commended for this quality; and some lesser journals seem ambitious to imitate in that regard in a feeble way. But here is an example which really appears ridiculous. On Tuesday, March 28th, the New York Herald said of Sumner's San Domingo speech:

> Rarely has there been delivered in the halls of Congress a speech marked with as much ability or carrying more important political consequences in its train. * * In fact, Mr. Sumner makes out a case of impeachment of a much more serious nature than that worked up against President Johnson.

On Tuesday, April 4th, just one week later, no new facts having been brought to light in the meantime, it said:

> With all his pompous, pondering and thundering phillippics, we expect the Senator, by the simple facts of the San Domingo Commissioners' report, will be reduced to a mere bag of wind—full of sound and fury, signifying nothing. It is remarkable, too, that after his unbounded admiration of the Alaska annexation scheme, and after carrying that delightful purchase of icebergs and white bears, at an outlay of seven millions in gold to Russia, and two hundred thousand to the lobby—it is, indeed, very remarkable that Mr. Sumner should regard the annexation of Dominica, at less than one-fourth the cost of Alaska, as a scheme of war, bankruptcy and all sorts of national disasters.

THE TERRITORIES.

Edwin Eells has been appointed Indian Agent at Skokomish Reservation. The appointment is an excellent one.

A Montana newspaper asks: "Why is immigration to Montana so light?" Probably for the reason that mankind are not disposed to grow frantic over bunch grass and prickly pears.

A son of B. F. Stone of Walla Walla, a lad of eight years, was drowned in the Walla Walla river a few days ago by being thrown out of a boat while fishing. At last accounts the body had not been recovered.

Near Cheyenne an Indian Chief, Potum-pi-ho-go, was lately introduced to an army officer by another savage, who by the way of commending the chief, told the soldier he was only 40 years old, that he had taken 200 scalps, and had had the delirium tremens 15 times. What noble red man could be nobler?

A Port Townsend paper says: The schooner Anna Beck takes Indians with their canoes and spears from Neah Bay and then goes in search of seals. When the weather permits the Indians paddle off with their canoes, catch the seals, and the schooner then sails down and picks them up. In two days the schooner got one hundred and ninety seals on board.

The following resolution has been adopted by the Railroad Committee at Olympia. Resolved, That parties who have subscribed money donations to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company are requested to invest the same in land by the 15th of May, and deposit the deeds with the committee, or those who prefer depositing their subscriptions of money with G. A. Barnes & Co. by executing a negotiable note, conditioned that it will be due and payable to the order of the Railroad Committee, to be invested in land when the Northern Pacific Railroad Company shall signify their intention to connect with Budd's Inlet by rail

OREGON WOOLENS IN THE NEW YORK MARKET.—The New York Tribune of April 15th, says:

> Cassimeres of decided excellence of material and texture, manufactured at Oregon City, Oregon, may be seen and bought at the store of Toklas, Hahn & Co., No. 39 Warren street. Goods of more elegant finish abound; we believe these would outwear the best of them. Chinese labor is that mainly employed in their production. We have heretofore spoken of the peerless bed blankets fabricated in California; but we are not aware that Oregon woolens were ever before offered for sale in this city. These are surely worth a scrutiny.

HOW IT WORKED.—Good Mr. Sneake had been talking to little Calvin in the Sunday-school about the evils which result from using tobacco, and told him how, when he was a little boy, he met a gentleman in the street with a cigar in his mouth and had asked him to throw it away, and how the gentleman said, "My boy, you have learned me a lesson," and never smoked again. So little Calvin tried it. He asked the first man that he met to "please throw away that filthy cigar;" but the man wasn't on his throw, and all he said was, "I'll learn you manners, you little fool you." and cuffed little Calvin's ears till his noise bled. So little Calvin thinks things are changed since Mr. Sneake was young.

OREGON.

The talk about the Jackson county ditch has all ceased, and there is no prospect that work will begin.

Wool is said to be King in Douglas county. Stock sheep are worth $1 50 a head, after they are sheared.

Nathan G. Coleman, an old resident of Lane county, died at his home in Siuslaw precinct in that county a few days ago.

The Corvallis Gazette chronicles the arrival of a large number of people from the East, who will settle in the upper parts of the valley.

Brickmakers are wanted at Eugene City. Many bricks will be wanted there this summer, and no preparation is yet made for making them.

A few days since at Eugene City Jacob Hampton was run over by a team hitched to a buggy. Two of his ribs were broken, and he sustained other serious injuries.

There is to be a contest at Corvallis over the office of City Recorder. Wm. Groves, who was apparently beaten in the election, claims the office on the ground that illegal votes were thrown for his opponent.

From Capt. John Smith of Warm Springs, who has just returned from a tour through Linn county, we learn that a prodigious area of grain has been sown there, exceeding by far anything he has formerly seen.

The Eugene Guard gets off this: The Herald seeks to set itself up as an oracle in educational matters. It is extremely severe upon O'Meara's grammar, but hasn't a word to say against Dennison's arithmetic.

"Pony" Hampton and J. T. Hunt had a little "unpleasantness" over a game of cards at Jacksonville last week. Hunt got badly thrashed and has kept his bed ever since. But he confesses that he was most to blame, and so takes the beating very kindly.

A correspondent of the Eugene Guard resents the Herald's attack on Governor Whiteaker, and advises the proprietors of that paper "to dismiss the present editor, and get a man of more discretion, and a little more editorial ability. Almost any change would be to the interest of the party in this State." This is both unkind and unjust. An editor who has succeeded in stirring up his political brethren as the Herald man has done, and in uniting them in a combined attack on him, certainly has ability enough.

A newspaper bantling called the Benton Democrat makes its appearance at Corvallis, occasionally. Under pretence of complying with the "litigant law" which required litigant organs to be designated as such within six months after the act was passed, the first number of this sheet was published at Albany, and a dozen copies or so were scattered through Benton county. Says the Corvallis Gazette: With equal propriety the legal advertisements of the entire State could be printed on slips of paper at the Capital, under the immediate supervision of the Governor, and then "published" in the various counties, and these slips be denominated "litigant organs."

From Washington correspondence of the Eugene Journal we take this: The last session of the 41st Congress appropriated $10,000 "for the completion of the Custom House at Astoria, Oregon." The Treasury officers decided that this money could not be expended unless the architect would complete the building with it, and the amount was insufficient for that purpose. To obviate the difficulty Senator Corbett had an amendment inserted in the deficiency bill which passed Congress this week, repealing the words "for the completion of," etc., and inserting in lieu thereof "to continue the construction" of the said Custom House. He addressed a letter to Mr. A. B. Mullett, Supervising Architect of the Treasury, informing him of this change in the appropriation, and requesting him to proceed to expend the $10,000.

The schooner Clara Light, which recently discharged a cargo at Steilacoom, has gone to Nanaimo, to load with coal for Portland.

We take pride in subjoining the following testimonial from one of the ablest educators in America, together with that of the entire corps of Normal Teachers with whom we had the great honor to labor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, FIRST STATE NORMAL SCHOOL,
WINONA, April 18, 1871.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the high personal and professional qualities of Professor J. B. McGibeny, who for two years presided with entire acceptance over the Department of Vocal and Physical Culture in this Institution. To a thorough knowledge of the philosophy of Calisthenics and Vocal training possessed by but few, he superadds an enthusiastic devotion to his profession, and an industry surpassed by none. With an experience of more than a quarter of a century in the Normal Schools of this country, in whose courses of study Vocal Music has occupied a prominent position, I do not hesitate to say that I have never met with the peer of Professor McGibeny as an instructor in this department.

I commend him and his excellent wife, who also possesses rare powers as a teacher and musician, to the confidence of all who can appreciate the value of a true and rational mode of culture for the children and youth of our country.
WM. F. PHELPS, Principal.

I heartily concur in the above

THIS IS NOT A VILE COMPOUND, MADE OF Sugar of Lead, Lac Sulphur, and other poisonous minerals, which will produce headache, paralysis or insanity, but a harmless preparation, free from sediment, easily applied, and in a brief space of time restoring the hair or whiskers to their natural color. No preparation is necessary to use with it, but simply to apply according to directions accompanying each bottle.

This is the cheapest, safest and best Hair Restorer ever offered to the public. J. LIPMAN, Proprietor.

General Agents, R. H. McDONALD & CO., Wholesale Druggists, corner First and Market St., San Francisco; to whom all orders must be addressed. Testimonials of prominent citizens who have used it accompany each bottle. my3d1m&2p

CITY.

The [illegible] The May [illegible] real estate matters for the last three [illegible] [illegible] of the State, and especially in Multnomah, [illegible] and Yamhill counties. [illegible] of farming lands and city property, amounted [illegible] the aggregate to [illegible] [illegible] railroads, a [illegible] acres of land [illegible] It was almost an impossibility to borrow [illegible] or such securities. Now, however [illegible] different, farming lands [illegible] with the large [illegible] State, we can [illegible] [illegible] In other words, the immigrant soon learns [illegible] cheap lands can be had [illegible] California is suffering [illegible] high price of farming lands [illegible] from her dry seasons.

PRIZE ESSAY ON OREGON.—We [illegible] few days ago that the real estate agents [illegible] meeting, had agreed to offer a prize [illegible] for the best essay on Oregon [illegible] awarded by [illegible] committee [illegible] with the terms [illegible] the signatures [illegible] Secretary of [illegible] Real Estate Agency, as follows:

A prize of $[illegible] will be given by the [illegible] Board of Real Estate Agents [illegible] of Oregon, its advantages as an agricultural, commercial State, and [illegible] to immigrants, etc.

The essay not to exceed [illegible] pages of [illegible] matter the size of the pamphlet [illegible] "Labor Exchange."

The decision to be made by a committee consisting of the officers of the "State Ag[illegible] Society" and the following gentlemen [illegible] P. Deady, J. C. [illegible], W. S. Ladd, [illegible] Corbett [illegible].

The manuscript [illegible] from date. Address all communi[illegible]

Canby and [illegible] that the latter [illegible] of the prisoner, [illegible] commanding General [illegible] to produce him before the court [illegible] ed, and not to remove him [illegible] jurisdiction of the court.

THE INDIAN NUISANCE.—[illegible] Meacham, who was in this city [illegible] forms us that the Indians belonging [illegible] Reservations have all been gathered [illegible] intends that they shall be kept [illegible] measure for this purpose [illegible] which forbids the employment [illegible] from reservations without [illegible] forced, if possible. The Indians [illegible] about Portland belong to the W[illegible] tory superintendency, and [illegible] be requested to remove them [illegible] am's determination to put an end to the [illegible] Indian nuisance in this State.

THE WHEAT CROP.—The Salem Farmer says: "The fall and early winter sown wheat [illegible] ing well. Doubtless that which has been [illegible] late the present spring will not [illegible] assured that the wheat crop will [illegible] many acres of ground as last year [illegible] quently the yield will be less. Prices [illegible] ably be better." Our information from the farming districts is that a wide area of [illegible] was sown than usual and that the [illegible] serving to bring it forward very [illegible]

ODD FELLOWS' GRAND LODGE.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Oregon and Washington Territory, will convene in annual session in this city to-day. A large part of the Representatives-elect from the subordinate lodges are [illegible] in the city, and the attendance is expected to be full. We hear that, in consequence of [illegible] connect by boats on the Columbia river [illegible] the Representatives from lodges in Eastern [illegible] gon will not be able to reach here in time for the first day's session.

COMING BY LAND.—A gentleman who recently made the overland trip from Sacramento to [illegible] land, informs us that in the progress of the [illegible] through the northern part of California [illegible] a considerable number of emigrant wagons bound for Oregon. The people coming [illegible] Californians who had got tired of [illegible] droughts of that State and [illegible] grate where rains never cease [illegible] never fail.

AY MORNING, MAY 16, 1871.

CITY.

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS —The May number of & Upton's Real Estate Journal the following statements in regard to estate matters for the last three months and advice to owners of lands in regard to Since our last issue the sales of real estate gone far beyond what we anticipated actions are now quite frequent in all parts of the State, and especially in Multnomah, Washington and Yamhill counties During the month the actual sales in these three counties, of farming lands and city property, amounted in the aggregate to $500 000 This, we think, a cheering consideration that only three years before the commencement of the building of railroads, a transaction in farming lands was seldom heard of, and it mattered but little how many acres and a man was known to be owner of it was almost an impossibility to borrow money on such securities Now, however, it is quite different farming lands are more ready sale, and the large influx of immigration that is now beginning to pour into our fair and beautiful State we can reasonably suppose that the long looked for period, that the early pioneers of Oregon have so patiently waited for, has at last arrived and we still hope that our golden dreams conceived in the early days of 1849 may yet be realized but let us not be too enthusiastic Let owners of real estate, desiring to sell, we say By all means avoid the inflating of prices there is room enough for a million inhabitants in the Willamette valley alone and no one locality can expect any benefit by raising the prices of land above what the actual demand will warrant In other words the immigrant soon learns where land can be had and will act accordingly is suffering as much to day from the high price of farming lands if not more, than from dry seasons"

AN ESSAY ON OREGON —We announced a short time ago that the real estate agents at a meeting had agreed to offer a prize of $300 for the best essay on Oregon, the prize to be awarded by an examining committee. We now have an authoritative announcement, together with the terms upon which the offer is made, over the signature the Secretary of the Board of Real Estate Agents, as follows

"A premium of $300 will be given by the "State Board of Real Estate Agents" for the best Essay on Oregon its advantages as an agricultural and State inducements it presents to capital and immigrants, etc

The Essay not to exceed 100 pages of printed matter the size of the pamphlet published by the Real Estate Exchange " to be made by a committee consisting of the officers of the "State Agricultural Society" and the following gentlemen Hon M P Deady J C Ainsworth, Esq L White, Esq , W S Ladd Esq , Gen Canby Dr W H Watkins.

The manuscript to be handed in within 60 days from date. Address all communications to

C P FERRY,
Secretary Oregon State Board of Real Estate Ag'ts
Portland, May 15th, 1871

AN OLD DODGE REVIVED —The reporter of the Journal speaks of "a confidential communication offering the recipient various packages of counterfeit money" as something new, and a "little ahead of anything in the rascality dodge line we have yet seen. This "dodge" is not quite as new to the people of this city We recollect to have seen such propositions received by various persons in this city, as long ago as 1866 The bait is only for the greenest class of gudgeons, and it is incomprehensible how anybody can be caught by it. For a year or more, we had not heard of any such communications but have been shown quite a number of late, and we see that the swindlers have had a "good." It is needless to say that the person who would answer such letters with an enclosure of money, would never see either his money or the counterfeit bills; the swindlers would pocket his money and say no more about it

THE BIRD HABEAS CORPUS CASE —Before Judge yesterday the petition for habeas corpus in the case of Wm B Bird, came up for hearing. The return of Gen Canby, commanding the Department of the Columbia, was filed , the counsel for Bird interposed a demurrer to the return for insufficiency, and asked that the Commanding General be required to file a proper return, or, in the alternative that the prisoner be discharged The court ordered that Gen Canby be required to file a proper and sufficient return by 10 o'clock A M Thursday, the and it appearing by the returns of Gen Canby and Chief of Police Lappeus that the latter was only an accidental custodian it was further ordered that the General have the custody of Bird, produce him before the court at the hour named and not to remove him, meantime, beyond the jurisdiction of the court

THE INDIAN NUISANCE — Superintendent who was in this city yesterday, in that the Indians belonging to Oregon reservations have all been gathered in, and he intends that they shall be kept at home As a measure for this purpose, the law of the State which forbids the employment of Indians absent from reservations without passes, will be enforced, if possible The Indians remaining in or about Portland belong to the Washington Territory Superintendency, and Gen McKinney will be requested to remove them It is Mr Meacham's intention to put an end to the vagrant Indian nuisance in this State.

THE WHEAT CROP —The Salem Farmer says The fall and early winter sown wheat is looking well Doubtless that which has been sown the present spring will do well But we are inclined that the wheat crop will not occupy as large an area of ground as last year, and consequently the yield will be less Prices will probably be better" Our information from the farming districts is that a wider area of spring wheat has been sown than usual, and that the late rains are serving to bring it forward very finely

ODD FELLOWS' GRAND LODGE —The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Oregon and Washington Territory, will convene in annual session in this city to-day A large part of the Representatives from the subordinate lodges are already in the city, and the attendance is expected to be large. We hear that, in consequence of failure to connect by boats on the Columbia river, some of the Representatives from lodges in Eastern Oregon will not be able to reach here in time for the to-day's session

COMING BY LAND —A gentleman who recently made the overland trip from Sacramento to Portland informs us that in the progress of the stage through the northern part of California, he passed a considerable number of emigrant wagons, bound for Oregon The people coming were those who had got tired of the annual droughts of that State and had concluded to move where "rains never cease," and where crops never fail.

WASHINGTON CIRCUIT COURT —Judge Upton went out to Hillsboro yesterday, to hold a term of the Circuit Court for Washington county Among the attorneys who went out from this city were Mr Mulky, acting Prosecuting Attorney, Caples J N Dolph, George H Durham and several others

PORTLAND HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION —Mr L Ballard, Secretary of this association, gives notice that deeds to stockholders will be ready Saturday on Wednesday, the 17th inst Provided, in excess of sixty dollars must be paid on delivery of the deed

SHORT TERM —One Dr J J Johnson was yesterday convicted in the Police Court of larceny and sentenced to sixty days confinement in the city jail He is the same man who last summer was convicted of robbing a man named near the Plaza

CIRCUIT COURT—SAWYER DEADY J J Monday, May 15, 1871—John R Lamb et al George W, Vaughn et al , the whole day consumed introducing testimony , evidence all in argument to be made to morrow morning Court adjourned till 10 A M Tuesday

THE RIVER.—The rise of the river for the last three days has not been rapid, but it is rising The most of the wharves are still out of water by a couple of feet

ANOTHER STEAMER —The dispatches say the steamer Constantine is to leave San Francisco for Portland next Thursday

PERSONAL

Rev Mr Vincent, Mr Philip Phillips and others, went to Salem yesterday to assist in the Sunday School Institute to be held there on the 16th, 17th and 18th

The Eugene Journal learns that Ben Holladay left San Francisco for Oregon on Friday last The information is probably incorrect.

The Eugene City people are congratulating themselves that they will have an opportunity to hear Philip Phillips, "the sweet singer "

Capt. John Smith, of the Warm Springs Reservation, was in the city yesterday, on his way from Linn county to his agency He will go on this morning.

Capt. J. M Kesler, of New York formerly Provost Marshal of this State called on us yesterday He has come out here seeking to extend the business connections of his New York house In this behalf, he is warmly commended by some of the leading business men of New York city, as a careful, trusty and business like agent We shall hope to see the Captain succeed in his mission to the full extent of his anticipations

AMUSEMENTS.

THE SKATING RINK —This place of amusement is having a good run of patronage It deserves it too, as the proprietors have neglected nothing which could be done to make it a pleasant place of resort A band of music will be present to night The hall will be open also this forenoon and afternoon at the usual hours

THE BEATTY DRAMATIC COMPANY —This company has been for some days playing at different places on the Sound, and it is understood that they are coming this way A short season of legitimate theatricals would just now be acceptable to our people, we fancy

CONCERT —The concert by the pupils of the Oregon Musical Institute, heretofore announced for Saturday evening and postponed, will take place this evening The exercises will be new and varied and some new singers will appear

BUSINESS NOTICES.

McGIBENY'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC —We take pleasure in calling attention to Mr McGibeny's new advertisement in our paper It sets forth the terms upon which instruction in vocal or instrumental music will be afforded, the times when classes will meet for exercise, etc It will be seen, too, that Mr McGibeny has some very handsome testimonials from places where he has heretofore taught

THE THREE DYSPEPTICS —Here is an extract from a letter received by Messrs Drake & Co Nov 2, 1869 ' Three friends met one day in the latter part of last September in the rotunda of the Astor House. Your correspondent was one of the three We were all suffering from the 'national disease'—indigestion and all agreed on one point, viz that nothing agreed with us We discussed medicines. One had tried blue pills, another extract of dandelion another almost every variety of purgatives In fact we had made apothecaries shops of our insides but nothing had done us any good I said I wondered if your PLANTATION BITTERS would help us any After some talk we concluded to try it, and meet again at that same place that day month, to compare notes We did so It was a jovial meeting, I can tell you We scarcely knew one another Each had gained flesh each reported a good appetite, sound sleep, an easy stomach and a regular habit of body The change was marvellous. It was agreed to report the facts to you and I was appointed to make this communication You can publish it if you choose, and refer all skeptics for particulars to

Yours truly, ALBERT W SHAW,

POLITICAL NOTES

A few days ago at a meeting in Turn Verein Hall in San Francisco, a political club was formed, and 150 of its members who were formerly Democrats avowed themselves Republicans

Full returns in New Hampshire give the Republicans a majority of three in the House of Representatives The Senate is a tie, five Republicans and five Democrats, with two vacancies

The New Bedford (Mass) Mercury says "The address to the people of the United States issued by the Democratic Congress is remarkable as the weakest document of the kind on record

The New York Tribune says ' The two gravest offenses which a man can commit in the South at this time appear to be the voting of the Republican ticket and the seizure of contraband whisky '

Democratic partisans are indulging in continual abuse of President Grant Having issued his proclamation on the Ku Klux outrages, the organs assail the President without stint 'Kaiser Grant ' 'Imperial Highness ' 'Ulysses I,' "Military Satrap " ' Gross Usurper, Shameless Tyrant,' and such like expressions ornament their columns, and in certain circles pass for arguments Bah !

The Dayton (Ohio) Journal says "At the close of the last Democratic administration the nation was bankrupt, and a civil war on hand The Union men of the country suppressed the rebellion, and now have $100 000 000 in the Treasury yet the Democratic leaders proclaim that the country is rapidly going to destruction May such a decline continue forever and forever more, should be the prayer of all patriotic people '

The "Dead Issues" Demanded by the South

The Milwaukie (Wis) Sentinel furnishes us an editorial on the Democratic situation which we consider worth publishing entire, as a spicy and perfectly just treatment of the subject

The Sentinel says "The good fortune of the Democratic party brings misfortune to itself While it is held fast in the sturdy hands of Republicanism, it does not hurt itself, but let it have a little success, obtaining thereby some freedom of action, and it immediately butts its head against a stone wall, to the imminent danger of knocking its brains out The reduction of the Republican majority in the House to less than two thirds the Sumner flare-up; and, finally, the partial success in New Hampshire, all combined to make some of the ardent leaders a little daft.

This was especially observable in the South These small victories stimulated the impatient, hot-headed sons of that fiery region to overdo themselves—to speak their pieces too soon, and too loud It even thawed out that old copperhead serpent, Jeff Davis, who elevated his head and put out his forked tongue in a speech at Selma, hissing out some false-hearted words about a violated Constitution! This was too much even for the Chicago Times, which, in a pretended fit of anger, ordered the old rebel to sit down and keep silence It was not the sentiments, but the fear of the bad effect produced by Jeff. Davis' appearance, that alarmed and angered the Times What he said was unadulterated Democratic sentiment, but, as yet, there is a slight prejudice in the Northern mind against the ex rebel chief and he ought to know enough to keep still

Modesty is not a plant that has been over-cultivated in Southern soil, and therefore, they not only talk, but act, in defiance of the frowns of their Northern brethren The Ku-Klux conspiracy is another premature performance. No doubt the Democratic programme is, to so terrorize the Union voters in the South as to prevent them from voting for the Republican candidate for the Presidency, as they did in Louisiana in 1868 But they began the work too soon, encouraged as they were by supposed dissensions in the Republican ranks. They will find themselves met by federal law (with bayonets to back him, if need be), enacted by this Congress, in consequence of their hurry to begin their devilish work

Frank Blair has also commenced to write letters, incited thereto by the prospect of a successful run as the Copperhead candidate for the Presidency. This is another misfortune of the Democracy, born of their late apparent successes, If Blair speaks or writes at all, he is apt to say very near what he thinks This time, however, he writes to the Montgomery Mail a letter somewhat cunningly disguised, or rather sugar-coated, wherein he is opposed to all the reconstruction measures of the Republicans, including the amendments, but is not in favor of disturbing negro suffrage (the fifteenth amendment), 'unless after fair trial it is found necessary for a good government.' That is, he is opposed to taking a drink early in the morning unless he [illegible] take it, and considers it necessary for his [illegible] The Memphis Appeal, however, understands Blair. It says.

"We publish this morning a letter from the Missouri Senator, in which he avows himself in favor of the complete overthrow of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution."

That is, of course, what he means and what he usually says, but not quite so plainly [illegible] bold utterances, instigated by their [illegible] successes of late, is not, according to the taste of the New York World, which [illegible] the prospect of the Democracy [illegible] of themselves, as they did in nominating Blair, on account of his [illegible] head letter It has had two long leaders within a few days, counseling moderation and a platform with 'live issues' upon [illegible] of 'dead ones.' The South is [illegible] that the Northern Democracy do not [illegible] to fight negro suffrage issues over [illegible], because they have so little superfluous strength that they cannot afford it.

Perhaps their defeat in Connecticut may warn them for awhile, but another small Democratic victory will bring out of their [illegible] the whole Copperhead brood. The [illegible] may as well give it up and prepare for [illegible] Presidential contest on the 'dead issues.' It is, to them, a sickening thought, [illegible], but the South can understand nothing else '

Cool Request of a Murderer.

[From the N. Y Evening Mail]

[illegible] the burglar and murderer, has sent Governor Hoffman a petition for commutation from the death penalty It is a remarkable document, and occupies three columns of the Binghamton Leader. Half of it is [illegible] a review of the evidence on which [illegible] was convicted of the crime of murder, and is a very ingenious perversion of the testimony in the case. The other half [illegible] of an appeal for clemency in the interests of philological learning. Rulloff [illegible] that he is on the verge of a discovery [illegible] will give a "perfect and thorough resolution of the very method upon which the [illegible] Latin, Hebrew, Sanscrit, and other languages were actually made" All he wants [illegible] elaborate and elucidate his theory [illegible] important matter He asks, further, [illegible] committee of experts be appointed to examine him and his manuscripts, with a view to [illegible] the probability of the ultimate [illegible] his philological researches Such [illegible] the request of this cold blooded and [illegible] criminal, who has for many years [illegible] abstruse philological studies by [illegible] burglaries and robberies and has [illegible] from his victims the means to pursue [illegible] scholarly career. We believe that the various [illegible] of crime cannot furnish a precedent for such a mixture of scholarly zeal with [illegible] and continuous crime Sentenced [illegible] hung on the 18th of May he enlarges [illegible] beauty and importance of his grand [illegible] logical discovery as though he had been a harmless and blameless recluse all his life and had devoted his whole soul to his studies. Is this assumed or real? He tells just enough [illegible] the direction of his researches to excite curiosity, and then artfully continues by saying

By the most unwearied and persistent effort your petitioner has succeeded in rediscovering the method, and is now familiar with all its leading principles. He is believed to be the only living person to whom anything of [illegible] importance is known upon the subject [illegible] he perish without the means of perpetuating his discovery, it might be a loss [illegible] human race which ages would not repair. Never before in the history of the [illegible] has the knowledge of this method been available for purposes of education. Ages [illegible] elapse before another person would [illegible] such advances in this particular line of inquiry as your petitioner has made

The human race has tranquilly endured the loss of many philologists as ingenious as Rulloff, and may possibly endure the removal of a man who has for so many years lived in a state of war against his fellows, in order to to gratify his sedentary tastes. We suppose that several thousands of philologists of harmless habits have honestly labored under delusions akin to that which Rulloff pretends to cherish. It is a characteristic of this class of students and should neither excite surprise nor confidence in its being anything but a delusion

If Rulloff's request should be granted we might expect the development of a new class of pleas for mercy A convict engineer might want time to complete a perfectly safe steam engine. A convict doctor might claim that he was on the eve of a medical discovery that would cure some malignant disease A convict chemist might pretend that he only needed time to invent a means for neutralizing malaria Whatever the man's profession or pursuit he could make some pretext like that of Rulloff for the continuance of a life justly forfeited to the law We doubt whether Governor Hoffman will chose to furnish a precedent for such a class of innovations on established practice

Said an American to an Irishman, "My ancestors came from Ireland, my name is Bryant, did you ever know of any people of that name in Ireland?" "Oh, yes, a great many of them." "Well, what sort of people were they? Pretty high strung, were they not?" "Oh, yes, I've seen a great many of them strung so high that their feet did not touch the ground."

How to Live Long and Well

A LETTER FROM MR BRYANT—HE DESCRIBES HIS MODE OF LIFE

[From the Herald of Health.]

New York, March 30

To JOSEPH H RICHARDS, Esq —Dear Sir I promised some time since to give you some account of my habit of life, so far, at least, as regards diet, exercise and occupation I am not sure that it will be of any use to you, although the system which I have for many years observed seems to answer my purpose very well I have reached a pretty advanced period of life, without the usual infirmities of old age, and with my strength, activity and bodily faculties generally in pretty good preservation How far this may be the effect of my way of life, adopted long ago and steadily adhered to is perhaps uncertain.

I rise, at this time of the year about 5 30 in summer, half an hour or even an hour earlier Immediately, with very little incumbrance of clothing, I begin a series of exercises, for the most part designed to expand the chest, and at the same time to call into action all the muscles and articulations of the body These are performed by dumb bells, the very lightest, covered with flannel, with a pole, a horizontal bar, and a light chair swung around my head After a full hour, and sometimes more, passed in this manner, I bathe from head to foot When at my place in the country, I sometimes shorten my exercises in the chamber, and, going out, occupy myself for half an hour or more in some work which requires brisk exercise After my bath, if breakfast be not ready, I sit down to my studies until I am called

My breakfast is a simple one—hominy and milk, or in place of hominy, brown bread, or oatmeal, or wheaten grits, and, in the season, baked sweet apples Buckwheat cakes I do not decline, nor any other article of vegetable food, but animal food I never take for breakfast. Tea and coffee I never touch at any time Sometimes I take a cup of chocolate, which has no narcotic effect, and agrees with me very well At breakfast I often take fruit, either in its natural state or freshly stewed.

After breakfast I occupy myself for a while with my studies, and then, when in town, I walk down to the office of the Evening Post, nearly three miles distant, and after about three hours return, always walking, whatever be the weather or the state of the streets In the country I am engaged in my literary tasks till a feeling of weariness drives me out into the open air, and I go upon my farm or into the garden, and prune the trees or perform some other work about them which they need, and then go back to my books I do not often drive out preferring to walk

In the country, I dine early, and it is only at that meal that I take either meat or fish, and of these but a moderate quantity, making my dinner mostly of vegetables. At the meal which is call tea, I take only a little bread and butter, with fruit, if it be on the table. In town, where I dine later, I make but two meals a day Fruit makes a considerable part of my diet, and I eat at almost any hour of the day without inconvenience. My drink is water, though I sometimes, though rarely, take a glass of wine. I am a natural temperance man, finding myself rather confused than exhilerated by wine. I never meddle with tobacco, except to quarrel with its use.

That I may rise early, I, of course, go to bed early, in town, as early as ten, in the country much earlier. For many years in the evening every kind of literary occupation, which takes the faculties, such as composition, even to the writing of letters, for the reason that it excites the nervous system, and prevents sound sleep.

My brother told me not long since that he had seen in a Chicago newspaper, and several other western journals a paragraph in which it was said that I am in the habit of taking quinine as a stimulant, that I have depended upon the excitement it produces in writing my verses, and that, in consequence of useing it in that way, I had become as deaf as a post. As to my deafness, you know that to be false, and the rest of the story is equally so. I abominate all drugs and narcotics, and have always carefully avoided everything which spurs nature to exertions which it would not otherwise make. Even with my food I do not take the usual condiments, such as pepper and the like. I am, sir, truly yours,

W. C. BRYANT.

GENERALITIES.

A debating society down East is discussing the question, "Which is the butt end of a goat?"

The Comanche Indians are disgusted with the employment of colored troops on the frontier, they are so difficult to scalp

The Pall Mall Gazette recently told its readers that "Little has been yet heard of the Joint High Commission, now sitting at Philadelphia."

"Are these rooms to let?" said a polite gentleman to a handsome young lady. "Yes, sir." "And are you, to be let with them?" "No, sir! I'm to be let alone!"

One by one the numerous adventurers who gave so much eclat to the late Confederate army, disappear. The last is Henry Lucien Moreau, originally a private in the Louisiana Tigers, and subsequently with Stonewall Jackson as Jeb Stewart. He was killed in the late French-German war

Sargent S Prentiss fought only two duels; one of them was with Foote When everything was in readiness for the little ceremony, and the great crowd was gathered on the ground so densely that there was but a lane left for the passage of bullets Prentiss heard a noise behind him, and turning around saw a half clad urchin climbing a tree not far in his rear. "Get down, sonny," he said, "you are in a dangerous fix there, Foote is shooting quite wild to-day."
